Java Intern

- Developed Java-based applications using JDBC for real-time data processing and database connectivity, improving data retrieval efficiency by 20%
- Gained hands-on experience with Core Java libraries, including the Collection Framework
- Collaborated in an Agile team environment, contributing to sprint planning and daily stand-ups
- Wrote clean, maintainable code following best practices and coding standards

UNIVERSITY PROJECTS

IOT SYSTEM – EV Monitoring Hardware

- Designed and developed an IoT-based hardware system for monitoring essential parameters of electric vehicles. The system collects and processes real-time data to provide basic diagnostics, enhancing safety and operational efficiency in EV usage.

OFFACCESS – Android Application (Offline Access Control)

- Built an Android application that enables remote access to a smartphone without requiring internet connectivity. Key features include fetching contacts, retrieving user-defined values, and toggling ringer/silent modes. Secure access is provided through device-level authentication, enhancing offline control and user convenience.
